Except for Public Law 116-37 and Public Law 113-46, data in the last three columns are from D. Andrew Austin, The Debt Limit Since 2011, Congressional Research Service Report R43389, Version 55, Updated 5 March 2019, pages 5-6 (available at <http://crsreports.congress.gov/product/pdf/R/R43389>).

Debt Limit increases are attributed to current representatives and senators based on their votes on the listed House vote numbers and the listed Senate vote numbers, which, except as mentioned below, were the last approvals by the House and by the Senate.

Public Law 103-12 passed the Senate by Unanimous Consent; the Debt Limit increase of $225 billion is attributed to current representatives and senators based on their votes on House vote number 133 and (under the UC column) Senate membership at the time of the Unanimous Consent.

Public Law 104-121 passed the Senate by Unanimous Consent; the Debt Limit increase of $600 billion is attributed to current representatives and senators based on their votes on House vote number 102 and (under the UC column) Senate membership at the time of the Unanimous Consent.

In regard to Public Law 113-83, an amendment to the title (available at <http://www.congress.gov/bill/113th-congress/house-concurrent-resolution/82/text>) was agreed to in the House without objection after House vote number 61 and was agreed to in the Senate by Unanimous Consent after Senate vote number 34; the Debt Limit increase of $901 billion is attributed to current representatives and senators based on their votes on House vote number 61 and Senate vote number 34.

In regard to Public Law 115-56, an amendment (available at <http://www.congress.gov/bill/113th-congress/senate-concurrent-resolution/24/text>) was agreed to in the House without objection after House vote number 480 and was agreed to in the Senate by Unanimous Consent after Senate vote number 192; the Debt Limit increase of $647 billion is attributed to current representatives and senators based on their votes on House vote number 480 and Senate vote number 192.

Yea votes and Not Voting on Public Law 116-37, which suspends the Debt Limit beginning on 2 August 2019 and ending on 31 July 2021 and is on pace to raise the Debt Limit by roughly $7,328 billion, are indicated by >.
